REQUISITION HONORED FOR THE ALLEGED SLAYER OF POOL ROAD VICTIM HERE

Detective Will Go to Murphysboro After John Hunt This Evening.

Hearing of Guy Dean is Set For Monday Before County Judge.

INTEREST IS GROWING.

Governor Deneen, of Illinois, has honored the requisition for John Hunt, of Metropolis, charged in a warrant with the murder of the unknown victim of the Pool road, and now will begin the most interesting phase of the mystery case. Detectives Moore and Collins will bring Hunt to Paducah tomorrow.

Four of the principal factors in the arrest of Hunt has been David Browning, attorney for Guy Dean, whose hearing on the same charge will be held before County Judge Barkley Monday. The chief evidence against him is the confession of Tom Farrin, a fellow prisoner, who has since denied the truth of it.

Browning declared two other boys on the same charge by producing the man they were supposed to have killed, and now he is proceeding to exonerate the present suspects by producing evidence to the contrary.

He is thoroughly convinced that, not only will a case be made against Hunt, but that the identification of the victim will be established. H. V. Keebler, has identified Hunt as the man he saw with the murdered victim, and two other witnesses, who recognized the victim, and saw a companion with him at the scene of the crime prior to its commission, will visit Hunt at the county jail when he arrives. Their identification will be important.

Metropolis Murderer Caught.
Metropolis, July 23.—Sheriff Lytton has arrived from St. Louis bringing with him a negro named Fred Coats, who is charged with the murder of Allen Wright. The killing occurred on January 29 at the railroad camps of Grimes & Clark, contractors for the Burlington railroad, who were at the time operating near Fortkown.

Dislocated Jaw Laughing.
New York, July 23.—Mrs. Celia Goldberg, a bride of a few days, gave a birthday party last night, and laughed so heartily at a joke told by one of the guests that she dislocated her jaw. Her husband called in a policeman, who in turn summoned an ambulance surgeon. It required three hours' work to set the injured member. The policeman failed to report what the joke was.

Texas Census.
Washington, July 23.—The census office announced the following populations: Brownsville, Texas, 10,517; Childress county, Texas, 9,538.

Thousands and Dimes.
New Orleans, July 23.—A subscription of $1,000, among others, was received at the world's Panama exposition headquarters here last night. Immediately afterwards an envelope was opened, which contained a subscription of 10 cents. But this subscription was followed by many of the same sort from employees of a manufacturing firm here.

"All of the employees of the company have set aside this weekly sum to the exposition," it was declared. Every employee of every manufacturing concern in Louisiana has been asked by the employees of this company to contribute a like amount.

Walter Blackburn is Sworn in as Clerk of United States Court in This City—After Surveyorship

After winding up his affairs at Marion, Ky., Walter S. Blackburn returned to Paducah this morning and announced that he had accepted the appointment of clerk of the United States court here, succeeding the late John R. Puryear. Mr. Blackburn took the oath of office before Judge Walter Evans in Louisville yesterday and donned the official toga this morning.

"I am glad to get back to Paducah," said Mr. Blackburn. He is pleased with the office and the community as well, and knuckled down to the regular routine of work this morning at the custom house.

Mr. Blackburn was in Paducah two days ago with Clerk Donald, of the United States court at Louisville, having been offered the local office as tipped in The Evening Sun. He decided to accept before leaving and went to Louisville to be sworn in. Mr. Blackburn has many friends in Paducah, who regard him with high esteem. He is a young man and has made friends with not only those in the legal profession, but business men. His appointment and acceptance gives the local office an efficient head as recognized by those connected with the department.

Mr. George B. Bingham, of Clarksville, auditor for the Planters' Protective association, is in Paducah today auditing the books of the local warehouse. Next Thursday the last sale of the season will be held at the Western District warehouse. A large offering will be had and a large number of buyers will be on hand to take advantage of the last opportunity.

Clark Blackburn today appointed Miss Ethel Miles deputy clerk. Miss Miles was deputy under Mr. Puryear and is a competent young woman.

Surveyor of Port.
The position of surveyor of port and customs is still vacant, although there are several candidates in the field. W. A. Blackburn, who succeeds J. R. Puryear as circuit court clerk, is after the appointment, while Ira C. Byerly, deputy stamp collector, is also after the appointment. Other candidates probably will be in the fight. The successor to Mr. Puryear will be named by President Taft. Mr. Puryear was re-appointed last month, and a new term of four years began July 1. The position pays about $365 a year.

Carl Henderson Appointed.

Frankfort, Ky., July 23.—(Special)—County Judge W. A. Blackburn, of Crittenden, resigned to accept the federal clerkship at Paducah and Capt. Carl Henderson was appointed in his place. Captain Henderson was formerly county attorney and commanded troops in the black patch during the night rider troubles.

Heroes of Fortress Monroe Recognized

Fortress Monroe, Va., July 23.—Four heroes of the explosion of Battery DeRussey, not incapacitated by wounds, were in Colonel Townsley's office today and received the commandant's commendations for bravery, which prevented a second powder explosion. Certificates of merit were awarded. Privates Fred Faulkner, Charles E. Parks, D. C. Wigley, Cook and Hawk. He commended for distinguished services Lieutenants George P. Hawes, Jr., and George L. Vandusen, and Corporals John D. Humphreys, William Bryan and Sergeant J. H. Kincaid. The heroes were modest. Captain Prentice and Lieutenant Mack, examiners, found the men commended for distinguished service had fought their way through smoke and gases and burning fragments to carry four powder bags from the covered section of the platform to a place of safety.

Futrell Must Stay In Jail For Month

Louis Futrell, sentenced to two years in the penitentiary for the murder of Horace Osburn, will have to remain in the county jail until September. This morning Circuit Judge William Reed overruled the motion of his attorneys for a new trial. An appeal was taken, but he is not permitted to give bail until the court of appeals convenes in September.

In their motion for a new trial his attorneys alleged that Judge Reed permitted incompetent evidence to go to the jury, and he failed to instruct the jury properly, and since the trial that important evidence has been discovered. They filed affidavits of Mrs. M. A. Byrd and C. W. Emery, who say they knew Osburn was quarrelsome when drinking. Affidavits of C. A. Coleman and Fred Merry state they saw Osburn under the influence of liquor on the day he was killed.

HALF MILLION WOMEN IN SUFFRAGETTE LINE

London, July 23.—The greatest suffragette parade in the world's history is on here this afternoon, when 500,000 women march to Hyde park to protest at the government's action in shelving the Shackleton bill, granting women with property qualifications the ballot. There are 40 monster mass meetings, with 150 speakers and 617 prison "martyrs" in prison garb and 300 women artists, wearing paint-stained aprons. There were 100 distinguished actresses with Mrs. O. H. P. Belmont, of New York, and other prominent suffragettes.

LONE BANDIT.

Kittanning, Pa., July 22.—A masked robber today held up near Pendleton Paymaster F. M. Brown, and the superintendent of the Dickinson Coal Mining company, en route to the mines from Reynoldsville with $2,800. He shot and killed Guard Horton Craig. The robber failed to secure the money, but escaped. A posse is searching.

PLAYFULLY SHOT YOUTH TO DEATH

PARENTS OF BOY ARE NOT SATISFIED WITH MEAGER REPORTS OF THE AFFAIR.

Washington, July 23.—A searching investigation was started today to learn the name of the young Virginia girl who shot and killed Benjamin Smith, son of Senator Hepburn's secretary, at Mt. Holly, Va. The body was brought here last night accompanied by a coroner's certificate, saying his death was from gunshot wounds accidentally inflicted. Smith's father is west, but will return to Washington. The brother of Smith says he and others were standing on a wharf at Mount Holly yesterday, when a launch carrying a half dozen Virginia girls came up. They joked the boys and one took Smith's revolver and it was accidentally discharged, killing him. The boys said the coroner happened to be there at the time of the shooting. His parents are not satisfied and want to learn who the girl was. The boy says she disappeared.

Crippen in Canada

London, July 23.—Inspector Dew, of Scotland Yard, in charge of the Dr. H. H. Crippen case, left hurriedly today for Canada, admitting that information he received is an important clue. He has found Crippen's whereabouts.

Inspector Dew's departure for Canada is explained as due to a wireless from Liverpool, saying two people resembling Crippen and Miss Leneve are on board a boat in Mid-ocean bound for Canada.

Police refuse to tell what vessel he is on, but it is believed to be the Allan line "Corsican," sailing from Liverpool, July 12, and due at Quebec July 21. Inspector Dew boarded the Cunarder Varonia, bound for New York, at 5 o'clock this afternoon. The Quebec police are asked to search all vessels for Crippen and Miss Leneve.

NEGRO ARRESTED IN RAWN KILLING

PARTIALLY PROVES ALIBI AND POLICE BELIEVE HE IS NOT GUILTY.

Chicago, July 23.—Ernest Stevens, the negro arrested in connection with the killing of Ira G. Rawn, was examined by Assistant Chief of Police Schuetzler and questioned as to his whereabouts on the night of the shooting. His statements are proven in part, and the police believe he is not guilty. H. P. Kullon, a collector, says while collecting a bill of the negro, he said, "I'll get that white man." Stevens denies this. Mrs. Rawn is not certain there was more than one shot.

The supposed bullet found in the fireplace proved to be solder, not lead. Coroner Hoffman has a chemist's report that the supposed blood stain on the sidewalk is water color paint.

—Residents of Fifth and Ohio streets have put in a complaint to the city over a well situated on one of the corner lots. The well is open and out of use and emits foul odors.

Official States That Company Did Not Purchase Property as Intended on Other Side of River.

ILLINOIS CENTRAL HAS CONTRACTED FOR USE OF BRIDGE, WHICH WILL ERING THROUGH TRAINS HERE

Work on Structure Will Begin as Soon as Possible After Hearing Before Board at St. Louis Thursday.

Paducah will be the terminus of the Herrin Southern instead of Metropolis, and the shops of the road will be located here.

This statement was made by an official of the Burlington road here today, in discussing the Burlington L. & N. bridge situation. He based his opinion on the fact that the deal for property for terminals at Metropolis has been declared on, though it was the original intention of the company to build shops there.

The right of way for the line from the Kentucky end of the Metropolis bridge to Paducah has been secured, and it is understood, the Louisville & Nashville has acquired the franchise of the Paducah Northern for a belt line around Paducah, giving the Burlington and Nashville, Chattanooga & St. Louis access to all the manufacturing sites of the city and environs.

On top of this information comes the positive statement from the same source that the Illinois Central has secured the right to use the bridge when completed. This is significant, because it is known that the Cairo bridge, which has a single track and long approaches, is over-crowded with traffic, and it is believed the solid trains from the Lakes to the Gulf will come this way over the Carbonade division via Paducah and Fulton to Memphis, instead of via Cairo.

This arrangement with the Nashville, Chattanooga & St. Louis and to the south, and possibly the Cotton Belt, will give Paducah exceptional facilities for reaching all the big markets. Being the railroad point nearest the mouths of the Tennessee and Cumberland river and the biggest railroad center below Louisville on the Ohio, Paducah will have an enormous advantage in the way of cheap access to deposits of raw material and ready access to the big market centers with effective water competition to keep down rates.

It will require three years to build the bridge; but just as soon as the board of engineers gives its sanction to the plans and the site, the roads will commence work on the approaches, and assemble material for the spans and piers. The present stage of the river would preclude operations, anyway, so no time is being lost. Work will start this fall.

Mr. Fickes said Metropolis would send a delegation of about 60 people interested in the question. They are in no way connected with the railroad, but are pulling for the site. They will leave Monday for St. Louis. Paducah will send a small crowd including Saunders A. Fowler, State Treasurer Ed Farley, County Judge Allen Barkley and a number of river masters and pilots. Cairo, Ill., is interested as well and a large number of rivermen there will be present at the meeting.

The Hearing.

A second hearing to be conducted before United States engineers in St. Louis for the purpose of determining the width of the main span of the Burlington railroad bridge across the Ohio at Metropolis, will be held Tuesday morning and will be attended by interested parties from Paducah and Metropolis and Cairo.

Clark R. Fickes, of Chicago, who has charge of the bridge construction and lines at Metropolis, arrived in Paducah last night with Mr. Willis Ward, on his way to St. Louis to attend the meeting. They left this morning. Engineer Beckes said to a reporter for The Evening Sun:

"The bridge location has practically been settled, although it has not yet been officially declared by the war department. I have been in Metropolis for some time and we are holding up the work on the bridge until the length of the main span has been determined officially. We have been unable to draw up the plans and the purpose of the meeting in St. Louis will be to fix the length of the span definitely."

When the plans were first drawn they gave the main span at 550 feet, but this was strongly protested by river men.

—Mr. Fred Acker, the popular postman at the Paducah postoffice, has been transferred to the mailing bench. He has seen several years service in his former duties.

EXPECTS STRIKE TO BE ARBITRATED

CANADIAN MINISTER OF LABOR SAYS BOTH SIDES ARE WILLING.

Montreal, July 23.—Mackenzie King, minister of labor, is confident that the Grand Trunk strike will be settled peaceably. Both men, and the railroad will arbitrate. The company asked the commission to be made up of men acquainted with railroading here to please both sides.

PLANTERS' PROTECTIVE ASSOCIATION MEETING

Directors and officers of the Dark Tobacco association held a meeting last night at the Palmer House for the purpose of discussing the outlook. Felix G. Ewing, general manager, was seen and he said: "We are meeting for the purpose of discussing over the condition of the association and outlining plans for the handling of next year's crop. The prospects are good for next season." Present for the meeting were: J. W. Usher, of Mayfield, vice-president; Felix G. Ewing, of Glenhaven, Tenn., general manager; G. B. Bigham, of Guthrie, auditor; W. W. Scott, D. T. Foster and J. T. Dougherty, directors of the association.

Momus is Afire.

Charleston, S. C., July 23.—A wireless message received here says the Southern Pacific steamer Momus is afire in her aft cargo hold. She anchored in the lee of Captain Canaveral's Florida steamer Comus, of the same line, which is standing by after removing the Momus' passengers. The fire was discovered yesterday afternoon. The Comus was summoned by wireless.

Texas Primary

Austin, Texas, July 23.—A heavy vote is being polled today in the general Democratic primaries on the proposed amendment to the state constitution, providing for state-wide prohibition. The race for the gubernatorial nomination has narrowed to William Polndexter and O. B. Colquitt.

This afternoon at 3 o'clock the Democratic county committee met at the court house for the purpose of selecting the manner of nominating candidates for councilman, aldermen, school trustees and filling the vacancy of coroner. It is the general opinion that a primary will be called in the city for August or September for the purpose of selecting Democratic nominees for the city boards. As there is only one vacancy in the county officers it is probable that the nominee for coroner will be selected by a mass convention.

Indians Drop Two.

Clarksville, Tenn., July 23.—On the last day of the first half of the Kitz season, Paducah dropped two games yesterday afternoon to the Clarksville team, and enabled the locals to push up closer to Vincennes and make it a closer dispute for the rag. The first game was lost by the close score of 1 to 0, while the Volunteers walked away with the second 9 to 2. In both games the regular Paducah pitchers were rested until the start of the second season, and fielders were worked in the box.

In the first game Harris, who was released by Paducah, worked for Clarksville and won his game in a pitchers' battle against Lockhart. Lockhart kept step with Harris and allowed only four hits, but hard luck resulted in Clarksville scoring one runner. Anderson's fielding was a feature.

Clarksville 1 4 1
Paducah 4 4 0
Batteries—Clarksville, Harris and Phillips; Paducah, Lockhart and Block.

Second Game.

"Is Life Worth Saving?"

Mrs. Mollie McRaney, Prentiss, Miss., writes that she had a severe case of kidney and bladder trouble, and that four bottles of Foley's Kidney Remedy cured her sound and well. During your stay there, you can have exceptional opportunity for fishing, boating, bathing in the surf, dancing and enjoying the cool Gulf breezes at this new resort, which is the most attractive on the entire coast. You will also have an opportunity to be shown over the O'Connor 70,000 acre cattle ranch, which is now being sold to homeseekers at most attractive prices and terms. You have but to see this property to want to be the owner of some of it. Port O'Connor is less than 5 months old and the development already made is wonderful, many lines of business being represented, among which is a $40,000 hotel, $20,000 dancing and bathing pavilion, a 1,600-foot pier extending out into the bay and a surprising number of business buildings and residences. The many thousands of dollars being spent to beautify and improve, coupled with an ideal location, and a new railroad (The Frisco), with transportation facilities to any part of the world by land or water, certainly offers the assurance of a future great place. CHILD MORTALITY IN SUMMER

Every summer the newspapers are full of horrifying stories of the death list among infants and children and extremely old people. In nursing infants and children still being fed largely on milk this is usually due to the quality of the milk itself, and in aged people to a general weakening of the system because of extreme heat. Still, a great many of the deaths are due to digestive trouble, and these can usually be avoided by the timely use of a reliable laxative-remedy. There is no remedy for this purpose that lends itself better to the uses of children and aged people than Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin, which for a generation has been the reliance of thousands of mothers and which is gaining in favor every year. This remedy, unlike a purgative, salt, laxative water or "infant medicine," contains nothing that is dangerous to the health of the weakest or youngest person, and its repeated use does not form a habit, as is the case with narcotic remedies for children. Go to your druggist this very day and buy a 50 cent or $1.00 bottle, and like thousands of other parents, keep it on hand for an emergency. You can obtain a FREE SAMPLE BOTTLE by addressing

GAMBLING.

(By Russen Wharton.)
A college boy in his cozy den sat dreamily smoking his briar. As he gazed on a maiden's picture lit up by the glowing fire,

These words her lips had spoken:
"You are only a friend to me,"
And sadly on he smoked his pipe
While he murmured musingly:

"This world is only a gamble
An down life's path you go;
When hearts are trumps in the game
Of love

And all your cards are low.

"When your rival claims the queen
Of hearts,
And is king of diamonds, too,
Then you know you're only gambling
And the game is up with you."

But still you keep on gambling,
No matter where you be;
Some day the turn of a card
Shall tell your destiny.

One day your mind in the balance
Swings
You wonder which path to choose
If you take the one, a fortune you'll win

The other, you're sure to lose.

Then you will know you're gambling
And may fate help you to win,
For the whole world is a gamble
Yes, 'tis only a gambling den.

Minicoganashene.

A hard name to pronounce, called locally "Minicog," this is a picturesque summer resort on one of the largest islands of the Georgian Bay, only 3 1/2 hours run by the Grand Trunk railway system from the city of Toronto, Canada, and beautifully situated among the 30,000 islands of that territory. Splendid hotel accommodation, good fishing, fine boating and not hay fever. Bass, trout, pickerel and pike abound. For illustrated descriptive matter and all information, write to H. G. Elliott, 917 Merchants Loan & Trust Building, Chicago.

Very Inelegant.

The subject of a young man's essay, who was graduated from a high school in a Pennsylvania town, was "Hawthorne," and in that essay he said: "At the age of 39 Hawthorne married and took his bride to the old manse."

In discussing the merits of the essay one young woman observed to a schoolmate:

"Wasn't it awful that Harry Heggis should say such a thing as he did?" Then, in response to the other's inquiry as to the allusion, the young lady added:

"Why, he said that at the age of 39 Hawthorne married and took his bride to the old man's. Why couldn't he be more elegant and say to his father-in-law's?" — Harper's Magazine.

GOOD MANNERS.

St. Paul Teacher Acts on Suggestion of One Pupil.

Miss Margaret Lennon, principal, of the McKinley School, agreeing with Lord Chesterfield that "good manners are to particular societies what good morals are to society in general—their cement and their security," and realizing the importance of the subject, has instituted an innovation in school instruction by devoting a part of the time usually spent in the class-room to what the children call "good manners class."

This class includes every member of the school, which has an average attendance of between 800 and 1,000, and is held in the assembly room, on the third floor, at irregular times and without notice. Here the children are allowed to ask questions pertaining to good manners. Each child asks a question and then answers it himself. The rest of the pupils listen and make corrections.

Miss Lennon lays no claim to the honor of suggesting the new idea. She gives all the credit to a 15-year-old boy named Alfred d'Arcey. Alfred was born in Antwerp, Belgium, where he was educated under private tutors to speak four languages. He came to America a year and a half ago and entered the McKinley school.

One day he startled his teacher by rising in class and deploring the ill-manners of the American children as compared with the better class in native land, and by asking why good manners were not taught in the schools. Miss Lennon heard of his remarks and immediately decided to try his suggestion. — St. Paul Pioneer Press.

King Edward VII.

The responsive sympathy from all English-speaking lands has not been a matter of surprise, in view of King Edward's cultivation of solidarity of feeling among all these peoples. America has not been wanting in the expression of its genuine regard for his high qualities and its appreciation of his uniform friendliness to this country, manifested, as it was, in a hundred ways. His death does not tend to dissolve, but to renew, the unwritten pact of friendship between two nations who have so much in sympathy—not least, as a tie, the necessity of working out certain common problems of government. — Editorial in July Century.

Snake Eats Whole Pig.

Rex and Snyder, the only real pythons in the country, are in the Bronx zoo. About five months ago Snyder received some little attention that Rex failed to get, and since then Rex has not been eating until last night. Curator Ditmars said that it was a case of jealousy pure and simple. The keepers in the zoo tried to tempt Rex with every sort of delicacy, but the snake wouldn't respond. They feared that he would die if he didn't eat something. Last night an eight-pound pig was placed in the cage with Rex. The snake gobbled the whole pig. It didn't take him five minutes to do it. After he had partaken of the porker Rex seemed better. Curator Ditmars said that the python will be all right in a day or two. — New York Sun.

Mr. J. S. Bartell, Edwardsville, Ill., writes: "A few months ago my kidneys became congested. I had severe backache and pain across the kidneys and hips. Foley Kidney Pills promptly cured my backache and corrected the action of my kidneys. This was brought about after my using them for only a few short weeks and I can cheerfully recommend them." "A Fair and Square Deal for Each and Every Policyholder"

HAS BEEN THE MOTTO OF THE

COMMONWEALTH LIFE INSURANCE COMPANY

Home Office, 312 West Chestnut Street, Louisville, Kentucky

Since it began on June 1, 1905, and how well it has succeeded in living up to this motto is attested not only by the reputation it enjoys among the people of Kentucky for fair and honorable treatment of all its policy-holders and for the promptness with which death claims are paid, but the constant and steady growth of insurance in force, as shown by the schedule below, also demonstrates the fact that people are glad to patronize a Home Company conducted along these lines, feeling assured that every contract issued will be fully, honestly and justly carried out.

The first six months of the year 1910 have been the most prosperous and satisfactory in every particular in the history of the Company, and the comparison below shows that while there has been a material gain in Premium and Interest Income and volume of insurance written in both departments, on the other hand, by exercising care and economy, there has been a reduction in the Expenses of Management, and through most careful selection of risks the Death Losses have also declined.

Daily Thought.

All are needed by each one;
Nothing is fair or good alone.
—Emerson.

Some hung juries are accomplices after the fact.

Well, Doc Crippen has discovered a new country—Andorra.

When is a mob not a mob? When it is in the hands of a Cairo jury.

People cheat and steal and lie and kill and paint their faces and live beyond their means, all for the same thing—vanity.

Haven't heard of King George's spurning with contempt the charity begrudgingly extended him by the house of commons.

When the third party is started we fear its promoters will find that the majority of the people regard insurgency as a spectacle for them to enjoy, instead of a movement for them to join.

A theatrical manager will bring Oberammergau villagers over here to see if the moral atmosphere will be salubrious for a reproduction of the Passion Play with the original cast. Reno, Nevada, would be a delightful place for it.

High officials of a great railroad system were discharged in disgrace and face possible imprisonment for defrauding the company which paid them large salaries. The moral that adorns this tale is contained in the wagger that they breathed a sigh of relief when the exposure came. Fine feathers don't make happy birds; and contentment is found only in the satisfaction of physical, mental and spiritual energies honestly expended in the performance of tasks for which the person is naturally fitted. The discomforts of a square peg in a round hole are no greater than those of a crooked peg in a straight one.

ENJOINING THE ASSESSMENT.
Jefferson county has enjoined the increased assessment by the state, one of the grounds being the confusion of personal and real property, and the authorities have decided to permit the injunction to stand until the hearing on its merits, which means that the increased tax will be collected in McCracken county and elsewhere, but not in Louisville. In this county the fiscal court determined what revenue is needed and fixed a rate in accordance with the existing assessment. Since then the state has raised the assessment, and the fiscal court, which unquestionably has the right to amend the rate, will permit the collection of taxes for county purposes under the new rate, the collection on the difference between the old assessment and the new being levied. We do not question the good intentions of the county to spend the excess revenue honestly and economically; but the officials decided the county needs less and the county will not be in the least hampered by a suit to enjoin the raise in this county. If the example of Jefferson county is followed in

CHANCE FOR REPUBLICANS

The Third District Review believes the Republicans have a chance of defeating Judge Settle for the court of appeals in the Second district. The Democratic papers say the district is hopelessly Democratic.

For answer, the Review says: Let's look at the way the people in the Second appellate district voted in the race between Governor Willson and Mr. Hager, the Democratic candidate for governor.

Governor Willson carried the sixteen counties comprising the Second district by the enormous majority of 2,061.

Get that figure in mind for a moment. He carried the very district in which Judge Settle now seeks reelection, by 2,061 votes. That was three years ago, in 1907.

The significance of that majority lies in the evidence it affords that the Democrats of the Second district can and will vote the Republican ticket when they see fit.

Governor Willson carried nine out of the sixteen counties. Such ordinarily heavy Democratic counts as Davies, McClean, Warren, Logan, he lost by a small margin. Ordinarily Republican counties like Butler, Monroe, Allen, Edmonson, Grayson, Ohio, Breckinridge, he carried with great majorities.

Hager was not a weaker candidate than Judge Settle. They are alike in many respects, notably in the vagueness of their political allegiance although the people have learned that vagueness of that kind in reality means close sympathy with the sinister forces of politics. No Democrat can truthfully say that Settle stands out clear for the plain people.

the interest of the taxpayers. It is up to the court house to do something.

THE PRICE YOU PAY AND THE PRICE YOU GET.

We do hear some complaint of the high prices we have to pay; but we don't hear anybody complain of the price he is getting. Here is an important point the free trader misses in his tariff celebrations. Nearly all consumers are producers. Also the anti-trust man overlooks the fact that labor combines to raise the price of wages, and farmers combine to raise the price of their products. Even doctors have fixed a scale of prices, and retail merchants' associations put a ban on cut rates.

Now, while we would be glad to do anything reasonable to reduce the cost of things, none of us are willing to begin cutting our own products. Where shall we begin?

The free trader, or "tariff for revenue only" man declares that the tariff is responsible for the high prices we are paying. If so, it goes without saying that the tariff also is responsible for the high prices we are getting. Nicht wahr? Yet, the tariff for revenue only man proposes to cut out all the schedules of the Payne bill regardless of any considerations other than those of reducing the cost to the consumer and raising enough revenue to run the government, as it was run prior to 1860.

Is there no alternative opposed to this, except that of an excessively high tariff? Let us see. Those who declare the Republican party never has enacted a fair tariff law, we presume, will not insist that the bill, which Grover Cleveland refused to sign, was a perfect specimen of a national revenue measure. So, we will agree with President Taft that neither party has ever yet evolved a tariff law that either was fair or exactly honest. They have all been framed on information furnished by those, who expect to benefit by the schedules. The explanation of this is simple; only those, whose business is affected by the tariff schedule under consideration, know anything about that particular article.

We assume further, that no one will insist that the Payne law is perfect or approximately perfect. We do know that it is furnishing more revenue than any other law ever enacted; that trade and industry are picking up at a marvelous rate under it; that wages have been advanced since it was enacted; that farm products are higher in proportion than at any other time in the nation's history, not even excepting during war times; and that the tariff rates on the necessities of life have been reduced.

Furthermore, we know that the Payne bill contains three provisions entirely new to the United States: the maximum and minimum rates, by which the United States has forced other countries to let our products in under the most favored nation clauses, and a tentative reciprocity with Canada has been effected; the corporation tax and the public utility commission, which is investigating the cost of production here and abroad, the wage scales, the markets, the proximity to the raw material, transportation charges and every factor that enters into international trade competition.

President Taft, who appointed the commission, stated that it will be impossible to secure a fair revision of the tariff without such data as a non-partisan, unprejudiced commission may gather; and to tinkering with the schedules further without it will be but malicious interference with the prosperity of the country. He has expressed himself as determined to secure this data within the next two years and to call upon congress then to revise the Payne bill in accordance with the finding of the commission.

The country may take its choice. It may elect a free trade congress next fall, pledged to tear down the tariff schedules without any first hand knowledge of the subject or information it can trust, hoping only to reduce the prices, which we are paying for what we consume, and, also, getting for what we produce; or the country may await in patience the report of the committee, and then elect whatever party the majority desires to revise the tariff in accordance.

It is neither logical nor consistent to conclude, that, because the country is not satisfied that the tariff is low enough, it prefers to pull the whole structure of prosperity down on itself in order to crush a few politicians in the boxes. America has not been shorn of its locks or reduced to the penal servitude of a blind Samson, that it should wish not only destruction of the Philistines but of itself.

Last Monday evening, July 18, at her pleasant county home, just east of town, Miss Nonnie, the beautiful and accomplished daughter of M. B. Pace, the real estate man, celebrated her 18th birthday anniversary by giving a party and ice cream supper to her many friends. A very delightful evening was spent by 30 young ladies and 47 young gentlemen friends of hers. At 10 o'clock p. m. five gallons of Nelson's best ice cream was served with other refreshments, which took about two hours to get through with. After which the crowd unanimously agreed that the ice cream and other refreshments were the "best ever" and wishing Miss Nonnie many a return of this her natal day, they all repaired to their respective homes.—Benton Tribune.

"I guess so. I live down this street 'bout four blocks."
"What is your name?"
"Martin Luther Hicks."

"Yes'm," answered the boy, brightening up, "I was named after my uncle on my mother's side. He keeps livin' stable."

MANLY ART

LITTLE TOO MUCH FOR EVANSVILLE BRUISER.

Paducah's Artist, Garfield Frogge, Convinces Munon of His Unfitness.

One round was sufficient for Garfield Frogge to work on Kid Munon, of Evansville, at the Henrietta theater in Princeton last night. The two boxers met at Princeton and about 600 people were present. Frogge was in fine fettle, and put up some fast milling. Munon did not know that the pace would be so fast and hot, and at the end of the first round said that he was not in condition to stand a longer battle. The bout was called off with the understanding that as soon as Munon has more training that he will meet Frogge, probably in Paducah, in the near future.

Next Friday night Oscar Williams, who is known as the "Paducah Kid," will mix it up for ten rounds with Turnis, of San Francisco.

COTTON LEADS ALL

Statistics on the Amount of Our Exports Issued.

Washington, July 23.—Cotton, copper, illuminating oil, wheat—these articles, in the order named, formed the most important articles exported from the United States during the fiscal year just closed. The value of the cotton exported was $450,000,000; of the copper, $83,500,000; of the illuminating oil, $82,500,000, and of the wheat, $47,000,000.

Other articles of export ranked in value as follows: Flour, lard, tobacco, lumber, upper leather, corn, bituminous coal and lubricating oil.

In nearly all of the articles of natural production there was a marked decline in the exports of 1910 as compared with previous years, while in certain manufactures the figures for the year are larger than for any previous year, and the total for all manufactures probably will exceed that of any earlier year. The bureau of statistics, which has given out these figures, has not yet completed the total value of the manufactures exported.

BLUEFIELDS OPEN PORT.

State Department Gains Declaration in Norway Case.

Washington, July 23.—Crossing diplomatic swords with Norway, the state department, replying to protests from New Orleans commercial interests against Norwegian recognition of the Bluefields, Nicaragua, blockade, today declared Bluefields to be an open port. Norway, it was said, was misinformed of conditions there.

Norway's "misunderstanding" was laid by the state department to Michael J. Clancy, consular representative of Norway at Bluefields and until yesterday vice-consul of the United States at the same port. Acting Secretary of State Wilson today announced that Clancy's resignation as vice-consul had been accepted, his service in the dual capacity being terminated.

Faithful Dog Told of Death.

Hickman, Ky., July 23.—A very remarkable and unusual thing was a night funeral had here last night when Peter Gouger was interred at the City cemetery at 10:30 o'clock. He drowned in Hamby pond, six miles below Hickman, the day before, but his body was not recovered until 2 o'clock yesterday afternoon. Gouger was fishing in a small boat on Hamby pond and was drowned in about two feet of water. Later in the afternoon Gouger's dog, which always followed him everywhere he went, was noticed running up and down the bank of the pond barking. This attracted the attention of passersby, and search was made, his pipe and gun being found in the bottom of the boat. The pond was dragged at once.

Congressman Convicted.

Boston, Mass., July 23.—Representative Joseph F. O'Connell of the Tenth Massachusetts congressional district was convicted in the Dorchester court today of violation of the election laws of the state. It is claimed that O'Connell distributed cards at one of the polling places in Dorchester during the city election last January, contrary to law. Judge Churchill imposed a fine of $20, but the congressman appealed the case.

Can't You Take a Joke?

July 23, 1910.—It seems that what was intended only as a joke by Dr. Rivers has been taken seriously by quite a number of people, and I wish to state that while there is a very bad condition existing at Ninth and Caldwell streets, yet the health officer of the city does not hold the board of public works nor the administration responsible for it, as they have been trying to have the trouble removed; and I find there is no one to blame for the whole trouble except a few private citizens and the unprecedented rains of the last few weeks; and the whole matter will be adjusted as quickly as it can be done.

I am sorry that the whole matter has been taken seriously as there was nothing intended but jest, and the health department of the city acknowledges the full support of the administration, the board of public works, the police department and all, and it is only with the support of the whole administration that we can hope to do any good at all.

Respectfully,
S. HOLLAND, M. D.,

"There was found in the river this morning the body of a soldier cut to pieces and sewed up in a sack. The circumstances seem to preclude any suspicion of suicide."—Everybody's Magazine.

He Had No Eye for Color.

There came to the home of a negro in Tennessee an addition to the family in the shape of triplets. The proud father hailed the first man who came along the road and asked him to see them. The man, who was an Irishman, seemed greatly interested in the infants as he looked them over, lying in a row before him.

"What does 'o' think?" ask the parent.

"Waul"—pointing to the one in the middle—"think I'd save that one."—Everybody's Magazine.

"You hear?" he cried passionately, turning to Aaron. "For the first time since how long? Now she wears no more black. Now she is no more silent. Now she sings, not for her brother, not for those who love her, not for me!"

"No; it's for Colonel Moreau," finished the older man, throwing away his cigar.

The crowd laughed harshly, contemptuously, his black eyes snapping with passion. "For 'Colonel Moreau'? I dare you—look me in the face and say that man is Colonel Moreau," waving a trembling hand to the window.

"I shall tell you nothing," replied Aaron sternly. "No matter what I suspect, I don't know. And I won't let a man be killed until I do know."

"When you met this man you did not know him," said Anatole, with slow significance. "I think to myself—who can he be? I make a guess and another guess and another guess, but I am not sure."

"Exactly," commented Mr. Randall, with some sharpness. "There you are. You are not sure. Neither am I. There is nothing to do but to wait until Tom Randall's arrival or, failing that, some authority from him, instructing us how to act; otherwise our honor blinds us, and we must meet this difficult matter with such patience and fortitude as we may possess. At the same time I thoroughly understand your feelings, and you have my entire sympathy. Let us pray this unbearable suspense will soon be terminated, for I make a poor and unwilling conspirator."

Meanwhile, at the card table, Messrs. Kirby and Bunce had been acting, for the benefit of the audience, a farce comedy bordering on the burlesque. Two seasoned gamblers, men who knew every game and trick embraced in cards and to whom the pasteboards were as familiar as one's knife and fork, it was somewhat difficult to simulate that chronic state of ignorance for which their self relegated position in society should attest.

Moreover, Kirby's native histrionic ability was badly handicapped by his thoughts being solely centered upon the now absent Adele, while the worthy Bunce's natural clumsiness was greatly enhanced by anxiety over their mutual safety, re-enforced by a perspiring embarrassment at finding himself a unit of such society. Happily for them their partners were not of a suspicious or inquiring turn of mind and were entirely engrossed with the game.

"You gentlemen know the cards a little?" Mme. Davezac had ventured with a charming and guileless belief in their ignorance. "Well, we shall teach you something new of the game maybe."

"I'll be glad to learn something new about it," Kirby replied, with gravity and perfect truth.

Mme. Davezac, with sadly amateurish fingers, assisted with many a flourish, intended to impress the presumable tyros with a fitting admiration for her skill, proceeded to cut the deck while Bunce eyed her gloomily and mentally criticised what he termed a "dirty rifle."

His professional dignity was outraged by the fact that she had cut to the last card and then serenely remounted the deck, and forgetting himself, he was about to assert his rights and demand a new shuffle when a warning kick from Kirby checked him.

"Ah, 'tis your deal," Mme. Davezac at length exclaimed, tendering the cards to Bunce. "First you must make the cards well-mix them, so—like you saw me. See, you suf-fel, as they call it. You think you can do that?"

"Yes'm, I reckon I can git that fur," he ventured modestly. Taking the deck, he promptly forgot his role and proceeded to give a very fine demonstration of the professional shuffle, spreading the cards in the air between his hands until he resembled an expert bartender mixing drinks. This completed to his entire satisfaction, he spouted out the pasteboards in a deal of lightning-like rapidity, while Mme. Davezac and the old judge sat bolt upright with astonishment. At length an extra desperate and well executed kick from Kirby checked the old gambler's stirring exhibition, and, covered with confusion, he dropped several cards to the floor and, in order to hide his flaming cheeks, stooped and began to miserably grope for them.

"You see," exclaimed Kirby, "my secretary is not so experienced as he might be. To speak confidentially, I would have let him go last month if it weren't that he is the only support of a wife and eleven children."

"I wish I was in the lower regions," groaned Bunce sotto voce.

"I'll see that you get your wish if you don't sit up here," replied Kirby. But soon it was Kirby's turn to gait that state of absentmindedness for which he had censured his partner, for in the adjoining room Adele had commenced to sing, and all his thoughts promptly went out to her, his lips mutely repeating the words of the well remembered song, while his eyes grew as dreamy and abstracted as his mind. At length, when it was his turn to play, conscious only that he was holding a book of cards and consequently inferring that he must be indulging in his bread and butter game of poker, he spread his hand face up upon the table.

"Malheur!" exclaimed Mme. Davezac aghast at this startling innovation. "He exposes his hand."

"I fear," commented the judge, rising and pushing back his chair, "the Colonel Moreau finds it difficult to play cards and listen to the voice of a beautiful woman at the same time."

"And you cannot say that he has not good taste," commented Mme. Davezac. "Tense! We adjourn, then, to the music room. You will come, Colonel Moreau and monsieur the secretar?"

Adele was still singing, Miss Pleydel accompanying her, and, drawn by the soft harmony, M. Veaudry and Aaron at length forsook the balcony and, as had the others, proceeded to make their way toward the music room. Their goal, however, was never attained, for as they stepped through the window into the deserted drawing room they were met by Poulette, one of the "French niggers."

She carries a small bundle made of a knotted spotted handkerchief, and her manner at tested that she was evidently laboring under the repressed excitement incident upon discovering business not intended for her cognizance. In fact, she had but completed a victory over old Croup, who had persistently annoyed her with his attentions and, when censured for so doing by his ample wife had promptly and quite untruthfully charged Poulette with making his life unbearable by her unrequited affection for his person. Since then Poulette, smarting under the calumny, had eagerly sought some method of assuaging her outraged feelings, and now at last she had secured it.

"Miche Aaron," she whispered, plucking Mr. Randall's sleeve as he was about to pass on—"Miche Aaron, da black man, Croup, he have a secret. Dat secret it is with Miche Moreau."

This is an extract from a Siamese paper that has an English column for foreign readers: "Shooting Outrage—O Fearful Agony. — Khoo Tong was a man of Langoon and on his return accidentally shot at by some miscreant scoundrels. Untimely death, oh fearful! All men expressed their mourn. The cowardice dog is still at large."

JOIN IN CONGRESS

WORLD GATHERING OF RELIGIOUS LIBERALS IN BERLIN.

Leading Thinkers From Every Civilized Country to Voice Their Views.

THOUSANDS WILL ATTEND.

Berlin, July 23.—One of the greatest religious gatherings ever held in Germany will be the Fifth World's Congress of Religious Liberals which will convene in this city, August 6, and continue its sessions for four days. Delegates representing almost every known religious denomination and hailing from every civilized country on the globe, will be present, and the speakers will include the most prominent religious educators and pulpit orators in the world.

The attendance will reach far into the thousands, and so many different nationalities will be represented that three languages—German, French and English—have been adopted as the official languages of the congress, in order to facilitate a wider understanding of the papers read by the delegates.

The American delegation is especially large, having occupied the entire cabin space of the Devonian of the Lyland Line, which sailed from Boston, July 13. They will visit both England and Holland before they reach Germany. Among the prominent Americans who will attend the congress are: Prof. Francis G. Peabody, of Harvard University; Dr. David Starr Jordan, of the University of California; Rev. Samuel A. Eliot, D. D., of Boston; Rev. Charles W. Wendte, of Boston; Rabbi Emil G. Hirsch, of Chicago.

Had Rapid Growth.
Although this corporation is but ten years old, its growth has been nothing short of phenomenal. It had its inception in Boston ten years ago, having been originated by the Rev. S. A. Eliot, president of the American Unitarian association, which was holding its seventy-fifth anniversary in the "Hub" city at that time, and it now represents sixteen different nationalities, and other thirty district church fellowships.

The articles of the congress are few in number. Its purpose is declared to be "to open communication with those in all lands who are striving to unite pure religion and perfect liberty, and to increase fellowship and co-operation among them."

Four congresses have been held thus far—in London, Amsterdam, Geneva and Boston—and all have been largely attended. The last one was held in Boston in the autumn of 1907, and was called "The International Congress of Religious Liberals," each country entertaining the congress having the privilege of selecting a name.

The coming congress at Berlin, however, promises in the brilliancy of its personnel and scope of its program to eclipse all previous meetings. It will be called the "World's Congress of Free Christianity and Religious Progress," and will be presided over by the Hon. Karl Schrader, member of the German parliament and president of the German Protestant association.

Must Be Above Suspicion.
Kidney and bladder ailments are so serious in their consequences, and if unchecked so often fatal that any remedy offered for their cure must be above suspicion. Foley's Kidney Pills contain no harmful drugs, and have successfully stood a long and thorough test. Gilbert's drug store.

Committed Bible to Memory.
William Frederick, Jr., a traveling salesman, bears the distinction, so far as he is aware, of being the only person who ever committed the Bible to memory.

He is a friend of Alexander M. Rush, of this city, who is well acquainted with the Frederick family. The one who committed the Bible to memory, while not being a member of any particular church, has made such a study of the Bible that he can repeat any passage in it from Genesis to Revelations and state where it is found.

He was eighteen years committing the Bible to memory. His object in doing so was not for the purpose of arguing scripture or for making a display of his wonderful knowledge along that line, but simply for his own benefit and his love for the Holy Word.—Fairmount News.

COLOR ATROCITIES OF SUNDAY PAPER

DENOUNCED BY REV. W. A. FITE YESTERDAY.

Well Attended and Enthusiastic Gathering of Christian Church People.

NEW OFFICERS ARE ELECTED.

President—The Rev. G. D. Wyatt, Paducah.
Vice-president—Mrs. H. C. Overby, Paducah.
Secretary—Mrs. Harper, Maxon Mills.

The foregoing officers were elected yesterday afternoon by the McCracken County Christian Bible School association at the annual meeting held at Metropolis Lake. The meeting for 1911 will be held July 21, the place to be fixed later by the association.

Resolutions were passed for the establishment of at least one more Christian Sunday school in this county during the ensuing year and also to make every Sunday school in the association "front rank" schools. The Tenth Street church school of Paducah is the only school that has attained this standard, which was fixed by the National Sunday school.

convention at Pittsburgh last fall. The requirements are: Each school shall have six graded departments; that they shall have a teacher's training class; 50 per cent of the pupils shall take Bibles to school; a regular weekly or monthly teachers' conference shall be held and each school shall have a missionary secretary and make regular offerings toward the advance of work in this and other countries, contributing to state work also.

Against "Funny Sides."

The association yesterday took a decided stand against the comic supplements to the Sunday papers. In his address on the subject of "Home and the Bible School," the Rev. W. A. Fite, pastor of the First Christian church of Paducah, touched upon the "funny" papers, saying they were demoralizing, silly and distracting to the minds of Sunday school pupils. He vigorously denounced them, and the association, although no resolutions were passed, will discourage them as far as possible.

The association includes the Bible schools of the Tenth Street and First Christian churches of Paducah, the Maxon Mills school and the Bethel school. The program was carried out fully with the exception of the Rev. Mr. McCaw's address. His place was filled by Mr. J. W. McGarvey, Jr., district Sunday school evangelist. In the absence of Senator W. V. Eaton, of Paducah, Mr. Morris spoke. The delegation from Paducah returned at 11:30 o'clock last night on the steamer Dick Fowler, which took them there yesterday morning.

An important point emphasized at the convention yesterday was that McCracken county's Bible schools rank as banner schools and are third in the state in importance.

Miscellaneous.
The Robert Rhea, running in place of the Nashville, arrived from Nashville this afternoon and leaves at 6 o'clock for Nashville.

The Ohio and Cowling were in port on time today, enjoying a good business each.

The John S. Hopkins was the Evansville packet today.

The John L. Lowry will arrive tomorrow from Evansville and be the Evansville packet Monday.

The J. B. Richardson is due tomorrow from Nashville and leaves at noon Monday for a return trip.

The towboat Russell Lord is due today out of the Tennessee river with a tow of ties.

The Kentucky leaves at 6 p. m. today for Riverton, Ala. She will have a big freight trip and a large number of round trippers.

The Blue Spot departed late yesterday afternoon for the Tennessee river to load ties.

Capt. James F. Browinski, of Joppa, Ill., returned this morning from a trip to Pt. Pleasant, Parkersburg, Cincinnati, Marietta, Louisville and other points after a business trip.

John Street is now in charge of the wharfbait at night with Al Ridenhouse clerking during the day.

The Clyde is due out of the Tennessee from Waterloo, Ala., tomorrow. She makes a return trip Wednesday evening.

The Robert Dodds, towing French's showboat, is en route to Paducah with Capt. Joe Fisher in command. Pilot John Hollender will bring her as far as Paducah. She will go to the Illinois river.

The Dick Fowler returned at 11:30 o'clock last night from Cairo and left on time this morning. Tomorrow afternoon at 2:30 o'clock she will take an excursion to Joppa, Ill., and return about 6 o'clock.

Leaving at 6 a. m. tomorrow the ferryboat G. W. Robertson will return from Metropolis about 8:30 o'clock, and leave at 9 o'clock for Golconda. She will return at night.

Only one boat disturbed the quiet on the wharfbait last night. It was the Dick Fowler, which arrived late and while quiet reigned Ed Letzenski, watchman on the Kentucky, hit upon an idea to pass away the time.

Instead of "killing" time Letzenski procured a Robert rifle and cautiously approached the rat holes on the wharfbait. John Street took a hand in the slaughter of the varmints and chased them from between boxes, sacks and barrels while Letzenski took aim and fired. He missed only a few shots. After the performance was over fifteen dead rats were chunked into the river.

Yesterday's St. Louis Globe-Democrat says:

Use of Sawdust.
Every now and then the daily papers bring in an item about some one who is trying to utilize the sawdust which accumulates all too rapidly at some sawmills and wood-working establishments.

Meanwhile some of our electric furnace pioneers have quietly gone ahead and have already been using sawdust for years as one of the ingredients for making the exceedingly hard grinding material carborundum.

To produce this a heavy current is passed through a core of coke surrounded by a mixture of carbon, sand, salt and sawdust. Which again goes to show that marvelous results can be obtained from the most commonplace ingredients when the magic of the electric current is available.—Popular Magazine.

KENTUCKY AVENUE

IS NOT CLEARED ENTIRELY OF ITS OLD NUISANCE.

In Spite of Order From Circuit Court They Get Into the Police Court.

Another one of the nightly free-for-all "near" tragedies that have been in progress, it is said, at 914 Kentucky avenue, terminated at 1 o'clock this morning with the arrest of two inmates and frequenters of police court by Patrolmen Dunaway and Garrett.

Mary Hunter and Matilda Johnson, both colored, argued and then fought with pitchers, tumblers and anything they could reach in the dark and stuffy house formerly occupied by Frankie Dixon. Other inmates are alleged to have had a hand in the scrap and smashed the door of Matilda's room just as the police appeared. One shot is said to have
